D. of J. Keeps Spies Under Wraps

By VIRGINIA GARDNER

Everything seems at sixes and sevens with the Senate Internal Security (Eastland) subcommittee's plans for unveiling a new Harry Gold-David Greenglass thriller entitled, "Why it was Sputnik not USnik."

Washington dispatches on Saturday quoted Sen. James O. Eastland's assistant, Courtney Pace, as saying the Department of Justice now was unwilling to let convicted A-secret spies Gold and Greenglass leave Lewisburg, Pa., penitentiary to testify.

This was after Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, had said that the Justice Department had indicated it would try to have Gold and Greenglass on hand as requested.

This was after the subcommittee staff had grabbed headlines for a hearing scheduled to open tomorrow in Memphis, Tenn., saying Gold and Greenglass would show how the "Rosenberg spy ring" slipped space platform secrets to the Soviet Union in 1947 or 1948.

The subcommittee now apparently is stuck with witnesses like Kentucky Attorney General J. M. Ferguson and Jefferson County Attorney A. Scott Hamilton of Louisville, and the warming-over of the stale sedition charges against newspaperman Carl Braden. Braden, a key figure in defending a Negro whose home was bombed when he moved into a white residential section of Louisville, was convicted and the conviction later nullified by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Whether the subcommittee quiz bounds will attempt to pin Sputnik on the Louisville newspaper copy-reader Braden now remains anybody's guess.

A dispatch of Friday said subpoenas had been issued for about 20 witnesses in Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga, Louisville, St. Louis, Cincinnati and elsewhere.

Subcommittee research director Ben Mandel was the first person next to ex-prosecutor Myles J. Lane to revive the Greenglass space satellite testimony after Sputnik was launched.

Look magazine then came out with a long story. It claimed was the first true account of the A-bomb secret theft.

Look magazine reporter Bill Davidson said he had had access to data going into a government study of the case based on a reopening of secret FBI files.

Apparently, if Look is to be believed, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sent to their death and Morton Sobell sent to Alcatraz on something other than the real facts, which it now reveals for the first time.

And among the hitherto undisclosed data Look brought forth was the names of two men who, it said, gave Rosenberg the secrets of the space platform project the U.S. was engaged in at least by 1947, and a project to propel planes with atomic energy. The two are Joel Barr and Alfred Saurent, who Look says, fled this country.

Possibly Mandel and Morris place little faith in the FBI reports and Look, and want to start a hunt on their own.

By JACK LOTTO

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 (INS). — A Senate committee today heard how two top Soviet spies stole secret American research data on anti-missile missiles, space satellite platforms and atomic-powered planes.

The fantastic story of the filching of a vast array of scientific and defense secrets 10 years ago was told by David Greenglass and Harry Gold, confessed and imprisoned Soviet atomic espionage agents.

The spies fingered other scientists "who may still be working with the Communists today," including a $200-a-day U. S. engineering consultant formerly connected with the Aswan Dam project in Egypt.

Greenglass and Gold, serving 15 and 30-year jail terms respectively, were interviewed in Lewisburg (Pa.) penitentiary by Robert Morris, chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Gold told Morris that Russia "without sweat and tears" was able to get a wide scientific catalog of American secrets.

The Senate investigator quoted Gold as saying:

"My Soviet bosses hammered at me time and time again 'we can do it ourselves, but we haven't the time. You, by obtaining classified information can save us time.'"

GREENGLASS NAMED New York engineer Joel Barr as the man who turned over the information on a missile-hunting and destroying "thinking machine" in 1947 to ~~since executed atom~~ spy master, Julius Rosenberg.

According to an affidavit read into the record at public hearings here, Barr, a former college classmate of Rosenberg, was employed by the Sperry Gyroscope Co., of Lake Success, Long Island, N. Y., from Oct. 28, 1946, to Nov. 16, 1947.

Before he was fired as a "security risk," the company reported, Barr was employed "as a project engineer whose work consisted of determining how well radar would detect and pick up certain missile shapes."

At the hearings, where Greenglass' and Gold's stories were read into the record, Acting Committee Chairman Sen. Butler (R.-Md.) angrily protested what he termed the "lack of cooperation" by the Justice Department.

He said he would confer with Attorney General Rogers about the refusal to permit stenographic notes to be made of the Gold-Greenglass interviews this morning.

Butler described as "ridiculous" the department's refusal to make available for questioning another Soviet spy, Jack Soble, who he

Dear Mr. Mandel:

1. Reference is made to your letter of October 25, 1957, which forwarded your memorandum dated October 16, 1957, relative to interview with David Greenglass and Harry Gold on October 15, 1957 at Lewisburg Penitentiary, and to our telephone conversation of October 25, 1957.
2. Joel Barr was employed by Sperry Gyroscope Company on October 28, 1946 as a Project Engineer and was discharged on October 16, 1947. Barr was discharged as a Security Risk, because the Government advised on October 6, 1947 that he could not be granted a clearance for the handling of classified material.
3. We are unable to amplify or supplement any of the information set forth in your memorandum of October 16, 1957 as applies to Joel Barr and this Company.
4. Barr was an average engineer. His work consisted of determining how well radar would detect and pick up certain missile shapes which was unclassified work. This Company has never been engaged in space platform work as such.
5. I would appreciate being kept advised of any further information you develop that is connected in any way with our Company.

Thanking you in advance, I am

Info Concerning

Inspector Donald E. Moore, Bureau, was contacted by the writer at 4:25 P.M., 11/21/57, and furnished the following information, which was obtained from Supervisor Arnold E. Brandt. The latter advised J. GARTH GRAY, Security Officer, Sperry Gyroscope, stated that he was contacted today by Mr. RANDALL, representative, International News Service. Mr. Randall desired to obtain a picture of JOEL BARR from Sperry Gyroscope. During the conversation, Randall told Mr. Gray that DAVID GREENGLASS today (11/21) testified before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at Philadelphia that JULIUS ROSENBERG had told him JOEL BARR had turned over to ROSENBERG a "missile hunting and destroying thinking machine". According to Garth Gray, Randall indicated that the press has an extreme interest in this matter.

Mr. Moore, on receipt of the above information, requested that it be forwarded to the Bureau by teletype 11/21/57.

Subsequently, Supervisor Brandt advised that Mr. Gray had also advised SA Fred Bauckham that JOEL BARR, while working at Sperry Gyroscope, was assigned near a project developing an Anti-Intercontinental Ballistics Missile Radar System, which project was and is at the present time classified SECRET. He stated Mr. Gray was very apprehensive that this latter fact might possibly leak out. Supervisor Brandt was instructed to send this later information in a separate coded teletype this date (11/21).

Von Braun Refutes Tale of Rosenbergs Stealing Sky Secret

By VIRGINIA GARDNER

Dr. Werner von Braun has now made it official—that the U.S. "had no ballistic missile program worth mentioning between 1945 and 1951." Dr. von Braun told this to the Associated Press, in a copyrighted interview, to explain the main reason why the USSR was the first into space with a man-made satellite.

Whether this will put a stop to the spate of stories planted in the press by Congressional committee spokesmen and, presumably, the Department of Justice blaming Sputnik I and II on the "Rosenberg spy ring" remains to be seen.

Latest to assume that the Soviet Union could not possibly have developed its satellite program on its own was the Saturday Evening Post, which recalled editorially in its Nov. 9 issue:

"The Rosenbergs, it will be recalled, stole important atomic secrets for the Soviet Union, possibly including the basic principle upon which the launching of the Soviet's moon satellite depended."

YET, VON BRAUN, the German scientist who helped develop the German V-2 rocket in World War II, and is now director of the Development Operations Division of the Army's Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, developing the Jupiter missile, said:

"The United States went into a serious ballistic missile program only in 1951. . . . He explained also: "There was no ballistic missile development program in the United States between 1945 and 1951 because there was no obvious need for it, no interest for it and no money for it."

ONE OF THE ALLEGED hitherto unrevealed facts in the Rosenberg-Sobell case brought out in "Look" magazine (Oct. 29 issue) by Bill Davidson, who worked with Department of Justice lawyers and was treated to secret FBI file, was that some government officials believe that Joe Barr gave Rosenberg sky-platform satellite secrets in 1947.

There is nothing in the trial record to this effect. In the trial there was the unsupported accomplice testimony of David Greenglass that Rosenberg said he had gotten this information about the sky platform from one of the boys.

"Did he [Julius Rosenberg] tell you just what information had been given to him by one of the boys concerning the sky platform project? Did he describe it at all?" asked Roy Cohn, of the prosecution.

"He said," Greenglass testified, "that it was some large vessel which would be suspended at a point of no gravity between the moon and the earth and as a satellite it would spin around the earth."

THIS UNCORROBORATED

bit of testimony, which if true would prove that Rosenberg was given space data fully as secret as Jules Verne's "Trip to the Moon," was elaborated on later by Myles Lane, then U.S. Attorney, heading the Rosenberg prosecution. In a speech June 1, 1952, Lane said that the FBI following up on the testimony, learned "that the Russians knew about our sky platform before some of our top people knew about it."

Lane was quoted in the New York Times of Oct. 13, 1957 less than two weeks after Sputnik I, to the effect that the Rosenberg "spy ring" apparently had given the Soviet Union information on an early earth satellite program of ours.

A search of periodicals, guides and newspaper indexes revealed the tell-tale evidence that German plans for a sky platform were seized by U.S. Army technicians in June, 1945. And Lane's added touch about burning Moscow was provided in the "sodium mirror" to reflect solar heat" that could burn a city or boil oceans.

Additional statements made after Sputnik I failed to discourage ex-Judge Robert Morris, chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and others from pinning Sputnik to the ill-fated Rosenbergs who no longer can declare their innocence.

On Oct. 13, the same day that Myles Lane first sounded the alarm that apparently the Rosenbergs had given the Soviets the secrets of early U.S. satellite programs, Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) urged sharing our satellite program with that of NATO countries, declaring the U.S. should not fear sharing its knowledge with its allies "for we know now that Russia has already gained that knowledge on its own."

In the Oct. 17 N.Y. Times on a new study being made by missile officials of the Defense Department, it was declared: "Projects that had previously been dismissed as science fiction concepts now are receiving the most careful scrutiny."

And that very day Judge Morris demanded a new spy hunt to catch contacts who might have given Rosenberg the space platform secrets.

In a letter to the N.Y. Times of Nov. 8 Dr. Bernard D. Davis, head of the Department of Bacteriological and Medical Sciences of the National Science Foundation, urged a re-examination of our loyalty-security program. The satellite (Sputnik I) had shown this country had underestimated the Soviet Union, he said.

In his plea to make scientific careers more attractive to youth, Dr. Davis said "irrelevant" security restrictions should be done away with. He hazarded the opinion that "the overgrowth of our security program depended on a view of the origin of the Soviet atomic bomb that may well have been false."

He doubted that the satellite and long-range missiles could be "rationalized as the fruits of espionage" and added:

"It therefore seems unlikely that the development of the Soviet atomic bomb, and of their hydrogen bomb shortly thereafter, seriously depended on the information contributed by Fuchs, the Rosenbergs, et al." Scientific secrets, he said, are open to anyone "who is willing and able to ask nature the right questions."

Re: Joel Barr

Joel Barr, according to the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Brooklyn, New York, was born on January 1, 1916, and Certificate Number 2575 was issued to record this birth. His father's name was given as Benjamin Barr, born in Russia. His mother was Becky Dobrowolsky, who was born in Russia.

The records of the Passport Division of the Department of State, Washington, D.C., reflect that Joel Barr applied for a passport on December 1, 1947, to go to Europe and the purpose of this tour was "to broaden background by continuance of study in Europe". He had indicated that he would attend the University of Delft, Holland, and the Kungl Technical University at Stockholm, Sweden. It was his plan to leave in January, 1948, to study one year at Stockholm and then one year at Delft.

On December 8, 1947, he was issued Passport Number 133925 and he left the United States on January 21, 1948.

The subject's last known residence in the United States was 241 West 97th Street, New York 25, New York. His last address in Europe was Villa Regine 16 Rue de la Pelouse in care of Mrs. Gascillea in June, 1950.

A confidential source in February, 1944, advised that Joel Barr, 241 West 97th Street, New York, New York, was transferred to the 9th Assembly District Club of the 9th Assembly District Section of the Communist Party (CP) under Transfer Number 12185.

Re: Joel Barr

Mr. Nathan Sussman, 55-55 205th Street, Bayside, Queens, New York, when interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), advised that in the latter half of 1942, a branch known as 16B of the Industrial Division, CP, United States of America (USA), was organized. According to Mr. Sussman, either Julius Rosenberg, a convicted and executed Soviet espionage agent, or Joel Barr had invited him to become a member of this CP branch.

In another interview conducted on March 30, 1951, Mr. Sussman recalled that 16B had a farewell party in 1944 and that among others in attendance were Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and Joel Barr.

David Greenglass, convicted Soviet espionage agent, advised in several interviews conducted by agents of the New York Office of the FBI as to the following facts concerning Joel Barr:

Greenglass stated that in 1945 Julius Rosenberg came to him (Greenglass) and told him to leave the country. Greenglass refused to leave the United States. Rosenberg told him he would have to leave the country and that more important people than Greenglass had left the country already, such as Joel Barr. Rosenberg told Greenglass Barr was doing work for the Russians overseas.

At still another interview, Greenglass advised that Julius Rosenberg told him that he had given money to Joel Barr to assist Barr in his trip to Europe in 1943. However, Greenglass had no knowledge as to the amount of money or exactly when this money was given.

At another interview Greenglass advised that just before Joel Barr left New York for Europe in January, 1948, Barr took a vacation in Miami, Florida. He stated he did not know if Julius Rosenberg or Vivian Glassman were present when Joel Barr sailed because he himself did not go to see Barr off. In connection with Barr's sailing he again recalled that shortly after Barr sailed, Rosenberg told him he had given Barr some money to make the trip to Europe. He stated that on another occasion, he asked Julius Rosenberg, sometime in 1947, and just prior to Barr's trip to Europe, whether Joel Barr and Vivian Glassman, who was the girlfriend of Joel Barr, were in the espionage set up. Rosenberg answered sharply, "No." Greenglass said that when Rosenberg answered, "No" to his question concerning Joel Barr and Vivian Glassman, in the manner in which he did, he must have meant that Barr and Glassman were involved, but he did not want to talk about it. A short time afterward, Rosenberg admitted to Greenglass that Barr was a Soviet agent, but he never mentioned Vivian Glassman again in connection with his espionage work.

A confidential source in January, 1951, advised that Samuel Perl, brother of William Perl, who was indicted for perjury in connection with his testimony in the Rosenberg Case, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for perjury, advised that he had received no information as to where Joel Barr had gone or the reason for his mysterious disappearance from Paris, France. Samuel Perl advised that he last saw Joel Barr in the Student Site Club on or about June, 1950, and at that time, Barr advised him that he was living in Paris. Perl inquired of Barr where he was going and the latter replied to the effect that it would be better if Perl did not know his intended destination.

This same confidential source further advised that Mrs. Gacalles, 16 Rue de la Polouse, when contacted, advised that Barr had left her home on or about June 15, 1950, and as of October, 1950, she had not seen him.

Re: Joel Barr

A confidential source in the early part of 1945, advised that the subject was presently enrolled as a student of electrotechnics at Kungliga Tekniska Hogskolan (Royal Technical University) in Stockholm. Barr was not registered with the United States Consulate at Stockholm, and was not listed as a student under the GI Bill of Rights. His residence in Stockholm was given as care of Anderson (first name unknown), Markvarnsgatan 2, Stockholm.

This same confidential source further advised that in 1943, Barr arrived in France and then proceeded by plane to Holland where he enrolled at the University at Delft and remained there until March, 1948. On March 31, 1948, he travelled to Finland where he spent six months touring the country, supporting himself by playing the piano. He then arrived in Sweden from Abo, Finland on August 23, 1948, and thereupon enrolled at Kungliga Tekniska Hogskola (Royal Technical Institute) in Stockholm. According to this confidential source, he devoted little attention to his studies, attending classes only on occasion and narrowly avoiding expulsion. In February, 1949, he travelled to Jämtland, Sweden and then to Oslo; over the Easter weekend he visited Lapland.

Barr claimed to be supported partly by funds sent to him by a brother who resided in New York. Following the completion of the course of instruction that the subject was pursuing at the Royal Technical Institute, Barr had indicated to some of his associates that he intended to return to the United States in the near future.

A confidential source in February, 1942, advised that efforts were being made to contact subject's former landlady in an effort to determine if she had any additional information concerning the whereabouts of the subject. This source advised that this landlady was then living in Tunis, and that upon her return, she would be contacted for the necessary information pertaining to the subject.

CIVIL ACTION NUMBER 75-1121

Reference Butel to all SACs dated 7/30/76 and Buairtel to all SACs dated 8/6/76.

By referenced communications, a list of the subjects in the investigation and trial of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg was furnished each field office. Also furnished each field office was a list of the names on the Government's Witness List relating to the investigation and trial of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The list of subjects and individuals appearing on the Government's Witness List will therefore not be repeated in this communication.

For your information captioned FOIA suit has been in litigation for approximately two years. During the course of this litigation, on 8/1/75, the Court issued an Order that no documents maintained by the FBI be destroyed. Due to the file destruction moratorium then in effect, that Court Order was not brought to your attention in 1975. Due to the continuing litigation and current discussion regarding reinstitution of a file destruction program in the near future, you are hereby being advised of the Order of the Court in this matter. Accordingly, no files maintained in your office (origin or auxiliary office) relating to any of the main subjects or individuals appearing on the Government's Witness List should be destroyed. These files must
